For a functional description of VeriPlan's fully integrated financial calculators and investment calculators for financial planning, debt management, and retirement planning, see: "The VeriPlan Overview." To help you to learn what VeriPlan could do for you, we provide for free downloading, the 'Sue and Sam Saver' VeriPlan tutorial file. This 'Sue and Sam Tutorial' is built upon the full function version of VeriPlan. This tutorial is not user changeable (except for the investment portfolio cost control), so that the tutorial data and tutorial commentary by Sue and Sam will remain consistent with each other. Overlaid on the worksheets of this tutorial are a series of rose-colored tutorial commentary boxes, in which Sue and Sam discuss VeriPlan's features and their projection. When you use this tutorial, you can move to any worksheet in any order that you wish. This tutorial still lets you see everything that VeriPlan could do for you. The free tutorial file demonstrates a full and comprehensive VeriPlan lifetime financial projection for Sue and Sam Saver. Sue and Sam are a typical, successful professional couple, 29 and 31 years old, with two young children whom they intend to send to college. Currently they rent their residence, but they plan to buy a home with a mortgage in three years. One of them works for salary and the other has a profitable early stage small business. They have acquired both debts and financial assets. They have chosen to purchase investments through and be advised by a full-service broker, and they pay investment costs that are typical of such a relationship. They also own an inherited rental property. To operate, this free VeriPlan tutorial requires a relatively recent and moderately powerful personal computer that runs Microsoft Excel 2002 or later. YOUR MICROSOFT EXCEL VERSION MUST BE 2002 OR LATER.
